ARVONIA, VA., February 7.—The present cold wave came as a great blessing to hundreds of families all through this section, as it brought for the first time this winter enough cold to produce ice sufficiently thick to gather from the ponds. To-day, which is an ideal one for the work, many people are engaged in filling their ice houses.

The lowest point reached by the government thermometer this spell was defree above zero Saturday morning.

was taxation. Another of his reasons for leaving the city, brought out by Mr. Meredith, was that the ether plant, in which he was interested, could not be located in Richmond or any other city. Low taxation and railroad facilities, to be near the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Companys' works, and to get away from objectionable neighbors were his principal reasons for establishing the other plant out of the city.

Colonel C. P. E. Burgwyne, consulting engineer, said he resided about half of his time in Richmond and the other half in Henrico county. He prepared the map which was on exhibit before the court. buildings in the county adjacent to Richmond. The appraisement of these schools had previuosly been offered and made a part of the record. The witness said that the graded school in Fairmount was the place to which all pupils from other schools were sent. The annexation would, thought Mr. Dickerson, mean the aboution of the school system of the county. Judgo Nicol asked the witness what conditions would be fair to Henrico, provided the territory on which the Fairmount school was creeted was annexed.

Mr. Richardson repiled that to allow all the children who now attended the school and those who are to attend in the future, to forever be admissible, would be a fair adjustment of the case. He said that the difficulty in having a graded school further from the city was that there were not enough scholars to justify the building of a good structure. He did not think that a graded school could be conducted without at least 50 pupils. One hundred pupils could not make a graded school that could be conducted economically, said Mr. Dickerson.

Colonel Burgwyne was on the witness stand when court adjourned at 6 o'clock until 10 o'clock this morning.

VIRGINIA BRIEFS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ALEXANDRIA, VA. February 7.—Mr. and Mrs. George William Ramsay have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hallie Hamsay, to Dr. Clement Ellis Conger, of Harrisonburg. The marriage will take place in Christ Episcopal church, this city, Wednesday, As Business Proposition.

As a business proposition, he believed Fairmount should be annexed. "It would be a big advantage to the clitzens of Fairmount to come into Richmond. At the same time it would ruin the school," the witness said. His statements were contradictory and he qualified them by saying that Fairmount could be annexed and the county not injured, but the county would be injured if any other territory on the east was taken in. He thought Howard's Grove should be left in the county.

Cross-examined by Mr. Meredith, Mr. Dickerson admitted having been summoned before a Henrico magistrate to show why he shouldn't abate the ruisance in the alley in the rear of his home, shear Chimborago Park, He was given ten days to attend to the matter.
